

VACATIONING AT SNOW LAKE LODGE

Snow Lake Lodge is nestled in Big Bear Valley, within southern California's San Bernardino Mountains. Foreign travellers have flocked to this majestic landscape since the early 1840's when news spread of the great grizzly bear population, hence the name of the valley and lake, and then in later years, the prosperity of the Gold Rush lured Hollywood celebrities and film producers. Today, visitors come to the Big Bear region not only for its rich history and rustic traditions, but also because it has become a popular, all season, recreational destination.
